

ANNUAL SCIENTIFIC MEETING

QUALITY IMPROVEMENT IN

NEONATAL PRACTICE

Organised by
The Hong Kong Neonatal Society supported by

Department of Paediatrics, Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Department of Paediatrics, CUHK
Hong Kong College of Paediatric Nursing

Venue: Lecture Theatre, G/F M Block, Queen Elizabeth Hospital

Light refreshments available!
All are welcome!

Friday, 13 September 2024
18:00 to 20:00

Online registration

Time	Title	Moderator
18:00-18:15	Registration
18:15-18:50	Implementation of an evidence-based thermal care protocol for improving the temperature of preterm infants after delivery and admission to the neonatal intensive care unit by Prince of Wales Hospital team Quality improvement principles and project discussion by Dr Damien Gilby Sunshine Hospital, Joan Kirner Women's and Children's	Prof Kei Lui Chairperson Australian and New Zealand Neonatal Network
18:50-19:25	The effect of parental reading program to parents of premature Infants admitted to a neonatal intensive care unit (a pilot study) by Queen Elizabeth Hospital team Quality improvement principles and project discussion by Associate Professor Liza Edmond Te Tātai Hauora o Hine Victoria University	Prof Simon Lam 1st Vice President The Hong Kong Neonatal Society
19:25-20:00	Building a quality improvement program from the start to making it everyday clinical practice by Associate Professor Amy Keir University of Adelaide	Dr Yuen Yu Lam, President The Hong Kong Neonatal Society

伊利沙伯醫院
QUEEN ELIZABETH HOSPITAL

Hong Kong College of Paediatricians
Cat A CME (passive) - 2 points
CNE - 1.5 points

Enquiries: Simon Lam, hshslam@cuhk.edu.hk